A Message from the Pastor

This is my next to last Message from the Pastor. In this Message, I don't want to focus on this weekend's scripture readings. Instead, I would like to focus on our pastoral staff.

In Sacramento, we had a pastoral staff three times the size of our staff here in Portland. That pretty much means that fewer people are asked to do more here in the Rose City. And they do it willingly, generously, and gratefully. I would like to personally thank Fr. Craig Boly for putting together the nucleus of this amazing pastoral staff that I inherited. They are not only talented and committed, they actually enjoy working together and all the people we serve. Together, we are able to care for the people and their needs which are entrusted to us.

Patty Frangipani is the first person you meet when you walk through the front door entrance of our parish office. She welcomes everyone. She does her best to respond to their needs. She looks for the good in everyone before her and almost always finds that good, calls it out, and strengthens it for when they leave.

Grace and Joseph Byrd are incredible. Those of you who attend Sunday morning Masses have experienced the gift of their music at our worship. What many of you don't see are all of their pastoral gifts (which they share daily) that don't involve music. Grace and her helpers run the RCIA and all the sacramental preparation programs. She also is the Business Manager for both the parish and the School. Joseph is really our pastoral administrator. He adds the "nitty" to the "gritty" of all our pastoral services and events.

Carol Pausz is our School Principal. She both leads and encourages and supports our educational staff. She is also, in her free time, and occasional sacristan for our Sunday evening Contemplative Mass. Carol, along with our entire pastoral staff, daily engage in cura personalis (a Latin phrase that means "care for the whole person").

Breese Watson, an architect by training, does an excellent job of caring for our aging building and grounds.

I think that God must really like St. Ignatius Parish. I say this because of the great variety of people who find their way to our faith community from Astoria, Lake Oswego, Milwaukie, Happy Valley, Vancouver, and so many other sometimes distant destinations. Take, for instance, our Deacon Mac Chester and his wife Debbie Chester (who works with the various liturgical ministries). They live in Hillsboro. Somehow God helped them find their way to a parish in south-east Portland under the care of the Jesuits. Mac and Debbie have brought so many gifts and such life to our faith community.

THEY SAW THE WORKS OF THE LORD, AND HIS WONDERS IN THE DEEP.
— PSALM 107:24

Fr. San Mai was a student at Santa Clara University when I was on the faculty there. I never had the pleasure of teaching him, but his gifts and his pastoral energy and insight are simply abundant. What an absolute delight to have had him as my Associate Pastor during the past two years. He is absolutely the right choice to care for our faith community in the years to come.

My prayer for these amazing “companions in mission” is that they will receive the same wonderful support from all of you that I have received these past three years. For all that’s been—Thanks. For all that will be—YES!

Fr. Mike

During the month of July, Fr. David Krol, S.J., a French Jesuit, will be helping with sacramental ministry at our parish until our new associate pastor arrives. We are grateful for his generosity and availability. You can read about Fr. David’s background below. Please welcome him to St. Ignatius when you see him!

I'm a French Jesuit who was ordained to the priesthood on January 6, 2024, in the charming city of Marseille. Reflecting on my journey, I swapped test tubes and Bunsen burners for the Bible and became a Jesuit. Before taking this leap of faith, I studied chemistry and physics, working as a laboratory technician for six years. I grew up in the picturesque Puy-de-Dôme, a region known for its volcanoes, cheeses, and being the birthplace of Michelin tires. But in 2008, inspired by a friend's faith and the writings of Saint Paul, I had a profound conversion, diving headfirst into Ignatian spirituality and service to the poor. I joined the Jesuit novitiate in 2013 and am currently working on a Sacred Theology License in Spirituality at the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley. I can't wait to meet you at St. Ignatius Church, where you'll be charmed by my French accent in my homilies.

Join our online community: onREALM (onrealm.org/sipdx), our online community, is where you are registered as a member of our church. Your onRealm profile is basically our parish directory, and it allows you to update your contact information, as well as view your giving. This year we're aiming to get everyone to post a picture of themselves on their profile, as a way of getting to know our fellow parish members! (This also helps the Parish Staff to get to know you, too.) Pictures are only visible to parish members, and you can also set your "privacy settings" regarding what information you'd like available to others. For any questions, please give Patty a call at 503-777-1491, or email office@sipdx.org

Care for Creation Team...

"Saint Pope John Paul II forcefully reaffirmed this teaching, stating that "God gave the earth to the whole human race for the sustenance of all its members, without excluding or favoring anyone." These are strong words. He noted that "a type of development which did not respect and promote human rights- personal and social, economic and political, including the rights of nations and of peoples- would not be worthy of man." " It is not in accord with God's plan that this gift be used in such a way that its benefits favor only a few." This calls into serious question the unjust habits of a part of humanity."
